

Leading Edge Concepts |

LE Concepts.com

Pace DS810XE HD Freeview

£169.99

Join the digital TV revolution with Pace's latest high definition (HD) set-top box. With the Pace DS810XE you can access the latest free-to-air satellite HD programming from across Europe, including the BBC's 12 month HD trial and its coverage of major sporting events. 2006. The DS810XE lets you enjoy your HDTV set to the full, giving you the highest quality images possible today. You can also make the most out of your audio system by connecting it to your surround sound system via its SPDIF outputs. Only got one HDTV set? Don't despair, as this set-top box can also simultaneously output in re-formatted standard definition to a second TV or DVD using the SCART, composite and s-video outputs. Its packed with support for leading edge digital TV standards & content protection technology including AVC/H.264, Dolby Digital +, AAC HE, DVB-S2, DiSEqC HDMI with HDCP, 3DES, AES & USB 2.0. The DS810 allows the viewer to watch High Definition MPEG-4 AVC/H.264 or standard definition programmes at the best possible quality. The DS810 has an auto set up feature, which enables it to be easily configured for use with most types of display - SD or HD, together with various connector types to provide connection to the latest display technology, (SD Output). Simple program search

You will require the following to enjoy HDTV from this unit: 1. An HD-Ready television 2. A satellite dish pointed to Astra 19.2°, 28.2°Astra Satellite that delivers Sky) You can of course take the feed from Sky, connect it to the HDCI-2000 and feed the loop back to Sky and thus have both Sky and BBC HD

Input/Output Connections:

- HDMI x1 Output
- Component Out (YUV) x1
- Scart (RGB x1) Output x2
- S-Video x1
- RF Output-F-Connector for loop through IF Input-F-connector for Satellite Dish
- 1x Digital Optical Output
- 1x Audio Pair Out
- RS232
- 1x USB 2.0

- 1x DVB Common Interface Slot

In the Box: 1x Remote Control; 1x User's Manual

Vendor Information

There are yet no reviews for this product.
Please log in to write a review.